

Free Rescheck Web Is Online (Printable PDF)

Just a quick update as we moved through the day today having Rescheck Web down a majority of the day. Rescheck Web has now been brought back live so if you have any IECC 2018 Reschecks and IECC 2021 Reschecks that you need to complete it is now operating smoothly.

If you experience any other Rescheck outages some good solutions are to use Rescheck Desktop, but the main difference is that Rescheck Web includes more codes. However, on days when an update takes place it can leave you without a way to obtain building permits. It is however very familiar with software companies to have outages and updates that can take down service. The Department of Energy does a fantastic job at keeping the updates short and delivering a lot of bang for the buck once the updates are complete. We are about to dive into this latest update and we will keep you up to date on any of the latest Rescheck Software news as we use this newest rendition of Rescheck Web to create a test Rescheck, or two.

Thanks for Reading the Reschexpert blog as we help Do It Yourself Rescheckers create their own Reschecks. If you need a Rescheck created we can do it. It takes about 4-6 hours, we charge $79, and all we need is for you to email your plans, jobsite address, and square footage to service@rescheck.info
